Background

The Spiritual Guidance Temple of Truth began as the acts of benevolence and loving-kindness offered by Her Holiness of Blessed Memory Supreme Mother Mildred Davis Miller. From a child Mother Miller possessed an anointing from God that made her an instrument of inspiration, health and wisdom to neighbors, friends and family. In the early 1940s, Mother Miller pledged that instead of simply using her spiritual gifts to gain material wealth, she would share her philosophy and insights with others who sought to help raise the consciousness of fallen humanity.

She organized a group of her friends and family to form a Christian Benevolent Order. This Order incorporated as the Spiritual Guidance Society on September 16, 1942. Although most of its services and members were in Miami, the organization began acquiring property in Pompano, Florida. Through the inspiration of the heavenly guides that led her to help hundreds of souls, Mother Miller began to organize a system of tools and keys that would assist others in developing their spiritual consciousness for the benefit of all humanity. The organization changed its name to the Spiritual Guidance Temple of Truth in 1972.

During the early years, the organization operated out of buildings in Brownsville and Overtown in Miami, but conducted services on property in Pompano Beach, especially on land that they were acquiring. Later, a building was begun in Pompano. It opened for services in 1968 at the 60th birthday celebration of Mother Mildred.

Mother Miller transitioned from her physical body in 1984, yet her spirit left behind a wealth of testimonies, lessons and philosophies to benefit the human race and the world we live in.

Message from Mother

I Am the Light from Within

Words. Words. Words. Don't allow them to overthrow you. Stop and listen to your words that you are saying at times. I want you to do something I've never asked a person to do. I want you to listen to all the gossip that comes to you. I want you to see the light in it and then think on the darkness. See and find out which is the strongest, the darkness or the light. Then ask yourself these questions, "who is it helping? Will it cause you to use the Spirit of Judgment? Is it breaking the Law of Christ? Will it cause you to think on the light? Will it help you face yourself? Or will you rejoice at the downfall of others?" You must watch stumbling and falling. Eat a plenty of green vegetables and less starch. Tell sugar to take wings and fly. Soak your feet and oil them. And take care of your hands. Watch your words. Don't express them with a force that will affect the body. Plead early in the morning for understanding. Pay attention to one that really depends on you. Don't crush them to please others. Don't grieve about what you have to do for them. When you sow good seeds, you will reap them as well as the bad. Read the words of Jesus in the New Testament. Pay attention and walk in the light. Face life with courage. Watch your thoughts. Be sure they are blessings of light. See light manifesting everywhere. Watch your limbs. Exercise and see light taking over the whole body. Watch your words to ones that are deceitful. Let them be words of light and they will change the person. Read the 27th Psalm. Burn Blue Candles and mixed incense (powdered), Use mixed oil.

REPEAT DAILY: Today I shall walk in the light, talk in the light, think in the light. I am the light from within.
